ABOUT THE ILLINOIS WOMEN'S PRO TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Illinois Women's Pro Tennis Championships is part of the United States Tennis Association Professional Circuit. This seven-day event will feature 70 players from over 15 countries, competing for WTA professional ranking points and a $30,000 prize purse. Many top players from these tournaments have advanced to compete in all four Grand Slam events. The tournament is organized by the Decatur Community Tennis Foundation, a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. Up to date tournament information can be found at www.illinoisprotennis.com.

ABOUT THE USTA PRO CIRCUIT

The USTA Pro Circuit, established in 1979, was created to help players earn the professional ranking points necessary to compete on the major pro tours. Celebrating its 40th anniversary in 2019, the circuit has evolved into the world's largest developmental tennis platform, featuring around 100 tournaments and nearly $3 million in prize money annually. The women's circuit includes events offering prize money of $15,000, $30,000, $60,000, $80,000, and $100,000. ITF World Tennis Tour 15s provide $15,000 in prize money and ITF World Tennis ranking points, while tournaments at the $30,000 level and above award WTA ranking points.
